When Apache Stronghold and Valseur Lido met in the Gr1 Drinmore Novice Chase at the end of November, it was Valseur Lido who easily came out on top. It was a different story, though, when the pair met again in the Flogas Novice Chase more than two months later, when Apache Stronghold narrowly managed to turn the tables.

Perhaps the extra furlong helped Apache Stronghold, as he is a son of the St Leger winner Milan. However, Milan's best progeny have often shown that they are perfectly at home over two miles, as Jezki's six Gr1 victories feature the Champion Hurdle, Darlan won the Gr1 Christmas Hurdle and Raya Star landed the Gr2 Scottish Champion Hurdle. Others, such as Beat That, Double Seven and Duke Of Lucca, are well suited by a test of stamina.

Apache Stronghold's dam First Battle was a winning point-to-pointer by Un Desperado, sire of that exceptional triple Cheltenham Gold Cup winner Best Mate, as well as such good staying chasers as Cornish Rebel and Nil Desperandum. Second dam No One Knows was a winning point-to-pointer by the French long-distance horse Kemal, who was best known as the sire of the Grand National winner Rhyme 'N' Reason and Scottish National hero Belmont King.

No One Knows's half-sister Tonto's Girl produced a very useful chaser in Go Roger Go.

By the time Petite Parisienne appeared at Arqana's Summer Sale, the then-three-year-old daughter of Montmartre had raced four times on the Flat. She had reached the first three each time, notably winning over 10.5 furlongs at Senonnes, finishing third in the Listed Derby du Midi and then taking a good second place at Chantilly.

In the process she earned a rating equivalent to 92. Consequently her price rose to €135,000, substantially more than the €22,000 she had realised as a yearling. She has still proved an excellent buy, winning the Gr1 Juvenile Hurdle on only her second start for Gigginstown House Stud.

Montmartre looked likely to develop into another superstar for Montjeu when he took the Grand Prix de Paris by four lengths in 2008. Sadly his luck ran out soon after. He emerged from his victory very stiff, with joint problems, and a recurrence of his problems led to his being retired the following February.

His debut at stud proved a fiasco, with only one foal resulting, but whatever the problem was, it had been resolved by the following year and Montmartre's 2011 crop numbered 62. Among them are Amour A Papa, runner-up in the Gr1 Prix de Diane, and a number of promising hurdlers. One of them, Kalkir, won the Gr3 Juvenile Hurdle at Fairyhouse in November and it was this gelding who chased home Petite Parisienne at Leopardstown. Twenty-one shares in Montmartre were sold for €180,000 at Arqana in December 2014 and the former Haras National du Pin stallion was moved to Haras de Hogueuet.

Petite Parisienne's dam Ejina won at up to 11.5 furlongs in the French Provinces and comes from a good quality Flat family. Ejina's half-sister Erinys was a Listed winner and Ejina's dam, the Surumu mare Enodia, was a winning half-sister to the Group-winning stayers Epaphos and Eurynome.

At the beginning of March, the 2014-15 list of leading jumping sires features three sons of Sadler's Wells in the top four. However it is King's Theatre, with his substantial lead over Oscar, who looks ideally placed in his bid to repeat his championships of 2011-12 and 2013-14.

His son Carlingford Lough is again one of his biggest earners and he was winning for the third time at Gr1 level when he got the better of Foxrock in the Hennessy Gold Cup. All three of his Gr1 successes have been gained at around three miles and he ought to stay three and a quarter miles (he had yet to get the hang of jumping fences on the only occasion that he tried an extreme distance).

Carlingford Lough's dam Baden was a useful hurdler in Ireland, winner of a Gr2 at Fairyhouse. Baden still had time to excel as a broodmare, her first foal being the Bob Back gelding Thisthatandtogether, a Gr1-winning hurdler who developed into a very smart chaser at around two and a half miles. Her Accordion gelding The Tother One – a three-parts-brother to Carlingford Lough – also showed smart form beyond three miles.

Carlingford Lough's broodmare sire, the 1974 Irish 2,000 Guineas winner Furry Glen, occupies the same position in the pedigrees of such good winners as Comply Or Die, Kingscliff, Like-A-Butterfly and Sir OJ.

Although he started the 2014-15 season with three defeats, Balder Succes progressed to record consecutive victories, including his second Gr1 win in the Ascot Chase (in which the favourite Ptit Zig fell). His record over fences now stands at seven wins, two seconds and a third from 14 starts, so steeplechasing seems to be his true metier, even though he had been good enough to tackle the Triumph Hurdle and Champion Hurdle.

Balder Succes ranks alongside Trifoleum and Camping Ground as one of three above-average chasers to have represented Goldneyev in Britain. Another son, Aso, is a Gr2 winner over hurdles in 2015. Goldneyev merited the description of royally bred, as he was a son of the brilliant Nureyev and the Arc-winning Gold River.

Goldneyev raced only over a mile, finishing second in the Poule d'Essai des Poulains, and he was responsible for a very good miler in Gold Away (himself sire of that excellent filly Alexander Goldrun). Goldneyev's best French jumpers include the Gr1-winning hurdler Usual Suspects, the tough chaser Al Bucq and the smart Lord Carmont.

Balder Succes's dam Frija Eria is an unraced daughter of Kadalko. This son of Cadoudal won only one of his 15 races on the Flat but his record over hurdles was very different, as he won 11 of his 15 races. Kadalko's last win came in the Prix Leon Orly-Roederer over three miles, so he stayed well. Kadalko's broodmare daughters are doing well, another of them being responsible for Ma Filleule, runner-up to Balder Succes in the Ascot Chase.

The second dam, the winning jumper Tyqualina, was by Quart de Vin, also sire of the second dam of Silviniaco Conti. Quart de Vin, best known as the sire of the outstanding French chaser Ucello II, numbered the Grande Course de Haies d'Auteuil among his hurdling victories.
